High School Defeats McKeesport

CHARLEROI HOMES UNDER QUARANTINE OWING TO EPIDEMIC

Eighty Cases of Measles Discovered

At the present time Charleroi has a mild epidemic of measles, sixty which affects approximately about seven homes being under quarantine 80 children. In addition, five homes are under quarantine for diphtheria. The malady has been gradually increasing for the past several weeks although the health board has been using every means possible to hold it within reasonable bounds However, during the past few days, it has been found necessary for the board to take more drastic steps in order to hold the disease in check, and in line with this decision Health Officer Darby on Thursday afternoon informed school officials that it would be impossible under the present circumstances to hold the benefit play, "Fi-Fi" which was to have been put on by pupils of the public school at the High school on the 4th and 5th of November, for the benefit of the High school library The health board believed that such a course was justified by conditions, as in some of the schools no cases of measles have appeared. while in others there are quite a number. By preventing a public gathering in the High school auditorium, it is argued that chances of spreading the disease are reduced.

Dr. C. B. Wood, state medical officer, was in Charleroi yesterday afternoon and in company with local health officials went over the situation and approved all that had been done. He particularly emphasized the enforcement of quarantines as a means of reducing the spread of all infectious diseases.

Girl Arrested

Police and residents of Belle Vernon Thursday evening joined in the chase of a young girl, who it is thought was demented. Escaping from the home of a family where she had been given shelter, food and clothing, the young girl, Mary Rody, aged 21, ran down the streets with her pursuers following. She made her way to the railroad tracks where she jumped a passing freight and was well on her way towards Fayette City when captured. She was turned over the county authorities and taken to the county jail at Uniontown.

The girl has been acting very strangely for several days. She is said to reside in Fayette City or Newell, but has spent a great deal of time wandering about in Belle Vernon. She was arrested and taken to the Belle Vernon jail Wednesday, where it was found that her clothing was filthy and unfit for any person. A family in that town, feeling sorry for the young girl, forced her to wash and change her clothing which was provided by the mother of the family. It was with reluctance she consented to do this.

When questioned she admitted sleeping on porches, sheds and anywhere that she could find shelter. She escaped from the Belle Vernon home by climbing through a window.

Juniors Entertain

The Junior and Women's Missionary Societies of the United Presbyterian church met at the parsonage Thursday evening. There was a good attendance from both societies Juniors had charge of the meeting entertaining with "The story of the Mite Box," which was timely and suggestive in view of the annual thank offering of the congregation next Sabbath. The service was followed by a social hour, the women's society serving refreshments

The annual thank offering of the United Presbyterian Missionary Societies will be held Sabbath, October 17. Sermon at 11 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m. A missionary pageant entitled "If They Only Knew," will be given by the young women of the congregation

Interesting Exhibit

An interesting exhibit of products of local mills is on display in the Homann windows and is attracting quite a bit of attention Various parts for automobiles, wire, steel, springs, tubing, tin and hundreds of other articles are on display along with an exhibit showing the method of production from the iron ore to the finished product. This is a most complete exhibit and gives a valued insight into the production of the local plants. In addition to the exhibition two large oil paintings, one of a toiler at the open hearth and the other a view of the blast furnace, the work of Howard Thomas of this city, are displayed in the same windows.

Must Attend School

The state department of public instruction has this year inaugurated the monthly report of attendance to be submitted by each teacher to the county superintendent and by him to the State Bureau of Attendance. Cards have been prepared for distribution to the teachers of the county which will be placed in their hands at the close of the first month of school. These cards are to be filled and mailed to the county superintendent. Boards of directors have been advised to provide necessary postage for this purpose.

Teachers must keep an accurate report all attendance items in a report book. Arrange the names of those of compulsory age in a group and those of non-compulsory attendance in another. Give to each pupil a number and not change it or its location during the term. When a pupil is tardy the actual number of minutes lost must be recorded. Require a written excuse from each pupil when absent or tardy, and report unexcused absences daily to the attendance officer. Must keep a careful record of the disposition of each case when the pupil has been absent illegally three days or more. All this must be kept so that should the State department call for information the same can be easily given.

During the past week three additional arrests have been made by the Attendance Officer of parents who have failed to send their children to school in compliance with the school code. Those arrested this week are Julius Jurauski, who failed to compel his 14 year old son to attend school; Mike Duprille, who kept his 14 year old son out of school and James Gowalli, whose son, aged 15 had failed to attend school. All were found guilty and paid fines and costs for the offense.

Halloween Party

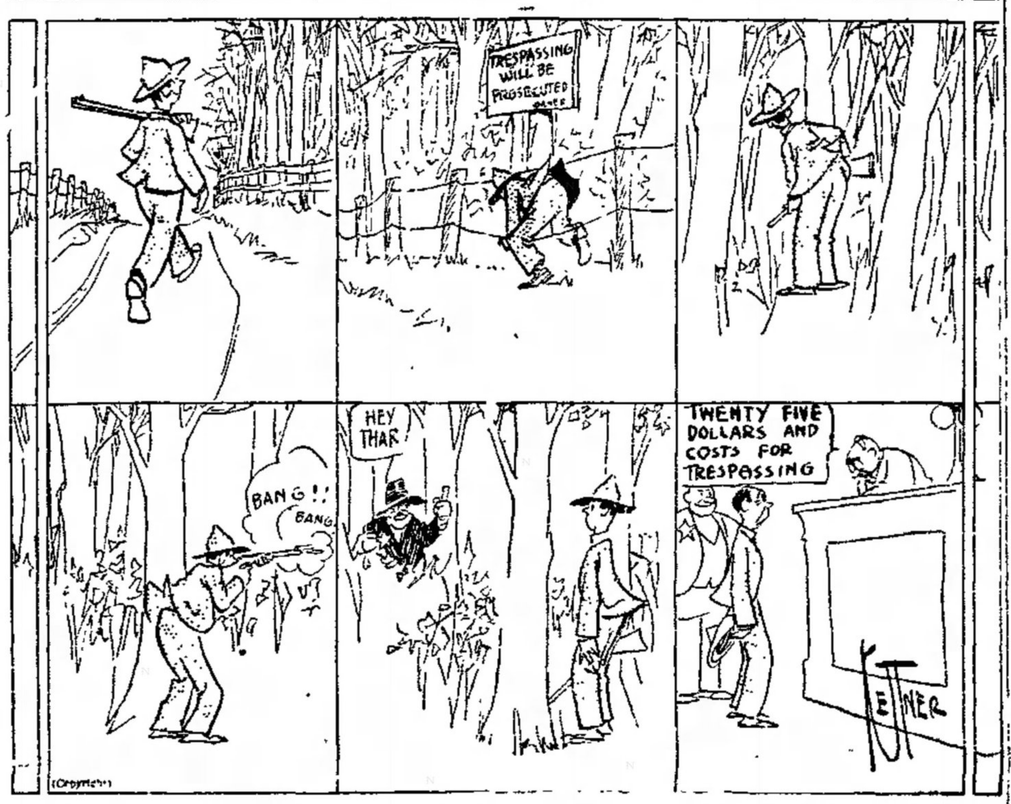
Sixty-five young people enjoyed a very pretty Halloween party at the home of Miss Myrtle Thorpe in Belle Vernon last evening The guests were in masque and presented a very pretty appearance with the rooms decorated in keeping with the occason. A pleasant evening was enjoyed by the guests in various games and amusements and a dainty lunch was served. Guests were present from this city, Belle Vernon, Charleroi, Lock Four, Brownsville and Fayette City.

Aviator Killed

(By United Press)

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Pilot McMullen of the United States Air Mail Service was killed today when his plane fell at Batavia, Ill., fifty miles east of here. He was flying on the Omaha mail route early today and evidently lost his way in the heavy fog. George White a farmer on his wife saw the plane falling and stated that an explosion followed which destroyed the machine. When they dragged the aviator from the burning wreckage he was dead.

The End of a Perfect Day



LOCAL FOOT BALL TEAM RUNS UP BIG SCORE ON FAST TUBE CITY OUTFIT

Although one of the local High school regulars was out of the game and several others badly crippled, yet they completely outclassed McKeesport high at McKeesport yesterday in what was considered one of the most important W. P. I. A. L. contests played so far this year. Both teams were important contenders for the championship of the league and several newspaper men from Pittsburgh were on hand to secure photographs of each team

Monessen received the kick at the start of the game. The kick looked as tho it would go over the goal line and Capt. Hannigan let it go but it took a reverse bound and Halon grabbed it carrying it out to the ten yard line. From here Monessen carried the ball by steady and consistent gains straight down the field to a touchdown. Lebowitz kicked goal making the score 7-0. For the rest of the half, altho Monessen gained much ground, she failed to cross the McKeesport goal for another tally.

McKeesport gained but one first down during each half and the ball was in Monessen's possession practically the whole game. Capt. Hannigan, who was playing with a badly bruised back, was injured during the second quarter and Schrading took his place. Schmidt calling signals.

At the start of the second half Capt. Hannigan begged to go back into the game, but Coach Townsend realizing the necessity of having him in trim for future games refused to take a chance on his receiving further injury. Monessen started out in the second half as they had in the first receiving the ball and carrying it straight down the field for a touch down. Lebowitz again kicked goal and the score stood 14-0

McKeesport chose to kick to Monessen again Hanlon received the kick and carried it to the twenty yard line Monessen advanced the ball to the middle of the field where they lost it on downs when McKeesport broke up an attempted forward pass. McKeesport made their second down of the game but lost the ball to Monessen when they tried a series of passes each of which was broken up.

Monessen received the punt on her forty yard line and again started a march down the field. By a series of end runs, and line smashes, by Anderson, Schrading, Schmidt and Veschio, Monessen carried the ball six yards at a down to the five yard line. With first down and goal to go Monessen required three down to carry the pigskin across for the third touchdown. Lebowitz kicked goal; score, Monessen, 21; McKeesport, 0.

It was getting dark when McKeesport kicked off again The kick was hard and low and Schrading fell on the ball on Monessen's 10 yard line.

Veschio made six yards through tackle, Schmidt made it first down then the same play it was now Monessen's ball on her own 25 yard line. McKeesport looks had drawn in to stop Monessen's terrific line plunging. Schmidt grasped the situation and called Fl Anderson for a short end run on a fake play. The interference took out every man except the quarter. Anderson eluded the quarter who gave chase. On the 30 yard line the McKeesporter made a dive and it looked as tho he would bring Anderson down. Ed. however, was on the alert and sidestepped, using his straight arm at the same time. This was the most sensational run of the game and was for a distance of seventy-five yards.

The Monessen team played like clock work Umpire Ashe said it was the best team work he had ever seen on a high school team. Every man starred. The work of Hanlon, Veschio, Dudas, Graff, Myford and C. Anderson was not only brilliant on the defense but they opened great gaps in the McKeesport line through which the Monessen backs often rushed without opposition. The whole Monessen backfield starred both in carrying the ball and running interference. No one was the star. Capt. Hannigan, Schmidt, Veschio, Anderson and Schrading all played brilliantly as did Tony Parnella who filled Mousiiaux's place at tackle. For McKeesport, Paterra played the best game Lebowitz not only passed perfectely but he kicked four goals out of as many tries.

Masquerade Social

The Lady Maccabees entertained at a Halloween masquerade social last evening in the Kelly hall. About one hundred and twenty-five guests were present and enjoyed a pleasant evening in games and dancing. A lunch was served and all report a most enjoyable evening. The guests were all masked and wore fantastic costumes.

Made Good Haul

(By United Press)

Newark, N. J., Oct. 16.—Burglars today obtained $100,000 worth of diamonds, jewelry and refined gold from the safes at the Strucher Manufacturing Co. here. A large safe was opened with a crow bar and about $50,000 worth of jewelry taken. The remainder of the loot was secured from a smaller safe which was opened by working the combination.

Young Man Injured

James Herberington of East Main street, Monongahela City, was seriously injured yesterday shortly after noon when, while speeding along the road near his home, the car struck a pole. The driver, who is only 16 years of age, suffered a broken arm and other injuries. The Buick automobile he was driving was badly damaged.

Police Made An Important Arrest Here

Clothing, jewelry, silverware and other articles of value worth over $3,000 were recovered here yesterday by Pittsburgh detectives and local police. The articles had been stolen in down town Pittsburgh department stores and shipped here to be sold.

For several weeks the police of Pittsburgh have been investigating an alleged shoplifting "ring" said to have been operating in various big department stores and Monday arrested Thomas Foster, aged 27, colored, of Pittsburgh, who formerly resided here. His brother and his wife were arrested at the same time but it was later proved that the wife had been away from home for some time and was not implicated in the thefts.

Yesterday the detectives came to this city and arrested Gladys Foster, aged 20, a sister of the prisoner, charging her with being implicated in the thefts. She was located in a house in the alley between Schoonmaker and Donner avenue, near Fifth street and was taken to Pittsburgh. While here the police discovered that large quantities of the stolen goods had been disposed of to various pawn shops, second hand stores and individuals and a general cleanup of all places under suspicion was made with the result that over $3,000 worth of the goods were recovered. It is alleged that the Foster girl had sold large quantities of wearing apparel and jewelry among the colored people on Third street last Saturday and this was recovered.

Farewell Reception

A farewell surprise reception was tendered Rev. D. R. Graham and his wife, by members of the Methodist congregation last evening. The guests, including practically every member of the congregation, met at the church and went in a body to the home of the pastor where they enjoyed a pleasant evening. A number of duets were rendered by Mrs. A. E. Thomas and C. C. Martin and readings were given by Miss Mildred Heilman. Roger Richards presided and in an appropriate speech presented the pastor with a beautiful Hamilton watch and Mrs. Graham a cordovan hand bag. The Junior League gave Mrs. Graham flowers and a check and the Senior League also gave expression of the esteem in which the departing pastor and his wife have been held. The Ladies Aid served ice cream, cake and coffee. Rev. Graham begins his new work in Braddock Sunday.

Arrest Gamblers

Police court was enlivened this morning by the appearance of six young men charged with gambling in a pool room at the lower end of town. They admitted their guilt and paid fines of $3.00 and costs, while the proprietor of the room was fined $25.00 and costs. One young man arrested during the raid, failed to put in his appearance for the trial and forfeited $15.00.

A driver of a Ford truck, who was operating the machine without a license, was fined $10.00 and costs. The Ford ran into a physician's car at Fourth street and a bill of damages will also be assessed the prisoner.

Prices Reduced

(By United Press)

Pittsburgh, Oct. 16.—Sugar, now selling at an average of 12 cents a pound, is due for a further drop, the purchasing agent of Donohoe's Inc., operating chain stores here, told the United Press today. Two months ago this product sold in many local stores at 25 cents a pound. The decrease is ascribed to the huge supply forced out on the market by losing speculators When this supply is exhausted an increase is to be expected.

Groceries are on the decline. But canned goods, exception of tomatoes which dropped approximately 15 per cent, are not expected to decrease in price. High cost of labor in canning establishments and the reluctancy of farmers to plant big crops are factors in keeping up prices of canned goods

Navy and lima beans have dropped more than 30 per cent in the last month The small beans average 7 cents a pound now

Although clothing dealers throughout the city are advertising big reductions, they are not apparent. Statements could not be obtained beyond that prices were about 20 per cent lower but the high cost of labor may force clothing prices higher within the next few months

Identify Body

The body of the man found in the Monongahela river near Port Perry, Thursday was identified in the Allegheny county morgue yesterday by Mrs. Anna Trenton of North Clairton as that of her husband, Edward T. Trenton, 29 years old, a World War hero, of California, Pa. Trenton at one time was a member of the Boston naval football team.

According to Mrs. Trenton, she married Trenton last January. She told officials of the coronr's office that her husband served eight years in the United States navy and made the trip around the world which was made some time ago by the fleet. He was discharged and when war was declared with Germany, he enlisted and served overseas for 22 months. When he returned to this country he secured a position as a brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad.

The body of Trenton was found by Fred Leland, a riverman, and was turned over to officials of the morgue. An investigation is being made by Coroner Samuel C. Jamison to learn how Trenton met his death.

Miners Walk Out

(By United Press)

London, Oct. 16.—Miners responded solidly to the call for a nation-wide coal strike today.

Reports from the coal fields declared the men were swarming out of the mines, many refusing to wait for the change in shifts.

By mid day it was estimated that more than a million miners and auxiliary workers had been affected.

Only the pumping engineers and maintenance staffs were remaining in the mines as an insurance against flooding or deterioration of the machinery.

Many of the men sullenly admitted that "we are likely to be beaten" but maintained they could stay out for at least six weeks.

No disorders were anticipated, with the possible exception of the more excitable Welshmen, but the stubbornness of the northerners and the Scots was expected to embitter industry for many months.

Iron and steel plants in Yorkshire were reported to be closing down.

Twenty thousand workers in the Teeside district were expected to be idle Monday.

Leave for South

Mr. and Mrs Samuel Jones will leave Monday, October 25, for their winter home in Orlando, Florida They will motor to New York where they will take the steamer Comanche to Jacksonville and will then motor the balance of the way, a distance of about 400 miles.

Mrs W. H. Cober, wife of Supervising Principal Cober, of Rostraver township, has been a patient in Mercy hospital for several weeks and had an operation performed. She has been improving very nicely and experts to come home today.

KEEPING WAGES UP

Manufacturers who are trying to meet the public demand for lower prices are troubled because the reduction in prices of raw materials will not permit them to go as far as they would like.

There is only one way by which this can be done without cutting wages---labor must produce more.

Notwithstanding the constant reiteration of agitators to the contrary, employers, as a rule, do not want to reduce wages. Most of them would be very happy not only to keep wages up but even to see them go higher if at the same time business can be continued at a profit.

It is generally recognized that if wages can be kept up and prices brought down, while industry continues to prosper, the country will be in for such a period of good times as the world has never known, because the buying capacity of the wage earner will be much higher than if his wages are reduced along with prices.

There is just one way to accomplish this---every toiler, brain worker as well as manual laborer, must increase his output.

THE I. W. W. CONVICTIONS

Some radical minded people will feel indignant that the United States Circuit Court of Appeals has affirmed the verdict against 94 members of the Industrial Workers of the World, for violation of the Selective Service and Espionage acts during the war.

Certain elements did their best to obstruct the working of the conscription act. Had they been successful, the American people would have to submit to German domination. All their loss of life and treasure would have been vain. If the laws of this country amount to anything, those that deliberately attempt to nullify them in time of war ought to be severely punished. The people who are not willing to abide by the laws of the land, should go to other countries where laws do not exist.

CUT THIS OUT

Special Notice: Dr. Frederick Jacobson says that phosphates are just as essential to any woman who tires easily, is nervous or irritable, worn out or looks haggard and pale, to make a strong, robust, vigorous, healthy body, as they are to make corn, wheat or any vegetable plant grow strong and healthy. The lack of phosphates is the cause of all enemic conditions and the administration of 5-grain Argo-Phosphate Tablets will increase the strength and endurance 500 per cent in a few weeks time in many instances. THE BEST INSURANCE IN THE WORLD!

By Rodney H. Brandon

In one of our American cities a young man was walking down the street one June morning. his head abnormally high, his thumbs in the holes of his vest and a gay whistle of pleasure furnishing melody for his promenade. The breast pocket of his coat bulged with a quantity of good cigars which he was prone to insert one by one into the faces of his passing friends. He was thus engaged upon this triumphant march because since the afternoon before. there had lain in the cradle at the humble cottage he called his home, nine pounds of pink, masculine humanity whom he recognized as his first child. For the first time in his life this young man understood what Fatherhood meant. For the first time since his marriage an entirely new conception of husbandship was in his mind and heart. Already was he painting pictures and dreaming dreams about the future of this marvelous child. In the fullness of his prayerful heart, he could see this little fellow developing from childhood to youth and from youth to manhood stepping hgiher and ever higher upon the ladder of success, inspired and sustained by the encouragement and support of his own fatherly care.

And as this young father made his way down towards his office he chanced to see, on the opposite side of the street, a miserable, no account bum. In the hair of this wretch was matted the straw of the livery stable and on his clothes the filth or forty unclean beds as he staggered from lamp post to water hydrant, clutching for support, making his sad, uneven way up the street.

The sight of this wreck of humanity was like a slap in the face to the young father.

"Mercy! " he thought, "there was a day when that being lay in a bed by a side of a hopeful and prayerful mother, as my little child lies today. There was a day when a father, full of hope and faith and love, walked down the street full of pride and pleasure at the thought of the future that that thing would achieve. What can have operated to have brought that once so clean and pure a child to such an end? Which of the poisons of social life can have struck him down to dismal failue? Ignorance must have been at the root of the downfall of that youth. It is not possible that he could have had a good home. It is no possible that he could have had a school course by-which his mind would have been developed and habits of thought and study come to him. It must have been that his home was destroyed when he was very, very young.

"And Poverty must have been present in his case. There could not have been a good home in which he was surrounded with a father's and mother's love. Perhaps his parents died when he was a baby and he had to take to the garbage cans in the alleys for sustenance. He must have been a gamin of th streets. The cold, relentless hand of Poverty must have been clutching at his heels all his life.

Yes, it was poverty and ignorance that drew him down. If it had not been for these he would have gained in his youth a self-respect that would never have permitted him to reach the depths to which he has sunk.

"Oh!" said the young father to himself, " if I just knew today how I could assure myself that no matter what happens to me and no matter what happens to my wife, that my baby will never know the pain of poverty or the ignominy of ignorance. If I could only insure myself against this danger."

And as the young father was thinking of insurance in this connection he bumped into his friend, John, whom he knew to be a salesman for a great life insurance company. He said, "John, you are just the fellow I am looking for, and he told him about the baby. "I was just thinking as I came along and saw that human wreck how much I would give if I could only know beyond the possibility of a doubt that my little baby would be saved from the dangers of ignorance and poverty no matter what might happen to me or to my wife."

"Why," said the insurance man, "I am just the fellow you are looking for. Let us see, Jim, you are thirty-five old," and he pulled out his rate book. "Here you are, ordinary life $10,000.00, age thirty-five. $153.50. I have it here for you Jim; here is my proposition: You pay me $153.50 per year from now until you die and I will contract to give that baby of yours $50.00 per month for the first twenty years after you die. Now so long as you are alive you know you can take care of the little fellow and under my plans as soon as you die we will take over the job. The money will continue to go to him until he is at least twenty years old, and consequently able to take care of himself.'

The young faher thought it over. "Let's see, John: I am thirty-five years old and I will probably live forty years more. Forty times $150.00 is $6,000.00. That is what I have to pay in. You pay the little fellow $50 a month, that is $600.00 a year. For twenty years it would be $12,000.00. In other words I I pay you $6,000.00 or less and you pay my baby $12,000.00. Sounds like it is pretty fair to my mind. Let's walk along while I think it over."

After the friends had proceeded down the street a block or so the young father turned suddenly and placed his hand on John's shoulder. "All right, old man," he said, "I'll pay you the $153.50 per year until I die; but $50.00 per month is a lot of money. I do not want the little fellow to have too much. I simply want him to have enough: and instead of your paying him $50 per month I want you to make the contract provide that you will pay him $25.00 per month. But there are four things I want to put in that contract that you will agree to do for my son. First, he must have such an education as will prepare him in he hand as well as in the brain so that at the age of twenty years he will be able to go out into the world and earn at least $30.00 a week in some recognized trade or profession. Second, he must have good high school education. Third, he must be taught to remember who his father and mother were, where they lived, what their names were and told frequently that they loved him and provided this protection for him; and fourth, he must be taught to worship God in the same manner and form as did his father and mother before him. You put these four things in the contract, John and give the little fellow $25.00 per month and I will pay the $153.00 per year until I die."

The insurance man smiled and shook his head sadly. "It's a great idea you have there, old timer, but it can't be done. No place in the world can you insure the integrity of the human soul. You pay us money, we will pay you money. We are not going to guarantee that your boy will have a vocational education: maybe he would not like it. We are not going to guarantee the boy will receive a high school education: maybe he will insist on quitting school. We are not going to contract to tell him who you were or where you lived: maybe the trustee would forget about it. And we are not going to contract that he will worship God at all, let alone worship God in the manner from you do. No, Jim, there is no place in the world where you can buy that kind of insurance. It is notfor sale."

The young father went down the street to his office sad at heart to think that when for the first time in his life he had really wanted to purchase in the way of insurance that he could not buy the one thing that he knew would save the child.

He went up the stairs to his desk and was siting there tionatnbegoingmaroandpudcouls-kthingfi, gfi ibz bzkflwkk thinking on these things when he remembered that some weeks ago before he had joined a fraternal society. He had not been very attentive in the ritualistic ceremony and had to admit that he did not get the most of the lesson but he remembered that after the regular initiation the presiding officer of the lodge had made a speech about a child welfare and child service and so the young father took down the phone and called up this gentleman.

"Say, Henry," he said over the telephone, "I joined that lodge of yours the other night and in that speech you made after the initiation you said something about child service. As I remember it you said that if the worst came to the worst with the members of the Order that there were some things that the child was entitled to receive. What was it you said?

And the voice came back over the phone, "I said that the child was entitled to an education, preparing him in the hand as well as in the brain so that at twenty years of age he would be able to go out into the world and earn at least $30.00 per week at some recognized trade or profession. I said that he was entitled to receive a high school education and that he must be taught to remember and revere the memory of his father and mother, told who they were, where they lived, what their names were and constantly reminded that their dearest wish while they were alive was that they might themselves have lived and been enable to prepare him for a good and worthy manhood: and finally I said, Jim, that the child must be taught to worship God in the same manner and form as did his faher and mother before him."

"Why, Henry," the young father said, "that is the same thing exactly that I have been trying to buy from my friend, John. the life insurance man. I offered him $153.50 a year for it and he said that that service could not be bought any place for any price."

And once again the voice over the phone said," Jim, that service you want is for sale and is being bought by thousands of men. The price is not $153.50 either. It does not make any difference in our organization whether you have one child, five children or ten children. The price per member is $11.00 per year and the only institution that sells this service is the Loyal Order of Moose.

THE LESSON

There is no father or mother. who hearing this story and knowing these facts will fail to buy this service for his or her child. The community will foster and further the lodge organization which gives such service, for it lifts a burden from the county houses and provides a cure for helpless orphanage without the aid of county funds. It is the world's newest, greatest and best insurance. It is America's fraternal plan for the conservation of the children.

"Inasmuch as ye rescue from Ignorance and Poverty one of the least of these, our children, so do ye add another pillar to society and place another soldier in the ranks of the army of good citizenship."

BENEFITS $7.00 A WEEK. SICK OR ACCIDENT. $100.00 FUNERAL BENEFITS. DUES $13.00 PER YEAR. COST OF MEMBERSHIP $10.00. AFTER CHARTER CLOSES, $20.00. IF YOU ARE INTERESTED IN THIS LODGE WRITE. PHONE OR CALL ON FRANK VOLITIS, Deputy Assistant Supervisor.
